

The background is a solid blue color. In the upper left, there are white, stylized plant roots or grass blades extending downwards. A white horizontal bar with rounded ends is positioned in the upper right. A large, faint white circle is centered on the page, containing the text. In the lower right, there is a white, stylized sunburst or starburst shape.

Looking In
(and Out) to Grow!

Our World has Changed

The Spaghetti Bowl of Trade Agreements

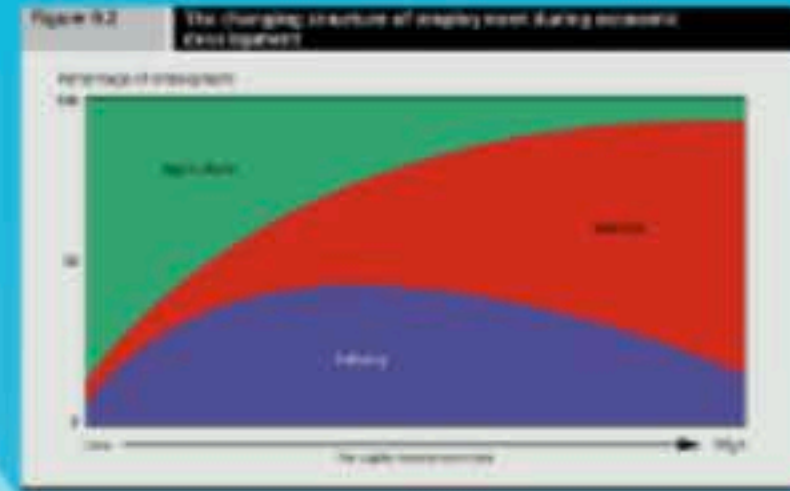

The world is more Demanding

Implications

Service Sector has become dominant economic activity

Talent, more than Capital will become key Factor of Production

Implications on Education

65% of children entering primary school today will ultimately end up working in completely new job types that don't yet exist.

(WFE's Future of Jobs Report)

At the same time, technology will kill some (a lot of) jobs

Jobs that will be lost to automation by 2030

Job	Estimated Number of Jobs Lost
Administrative Support	~1.2M
Assembly Line	~1.1M
Customer Service	~1.0M
Manufacturing	~900K
Retail Sales	~800K
Warehouse	~700K
Food Service	~600K
Transportation	~500K
Textile Mill	~400K
Production	~300K
Manufacturing	~200K
Textile Mill	~100K
Production	~100K

What would Fiji like to do?

Our people (examples):

- Knowledge of English
- Seafarers
- Peacekeepers
- Caregivers
- Rugby Players

What we have going for us:

- Our environment (pristine, pure, beautiful): Tourism
- Our land: Agriculture (Food Tech Park)
- Our waters: Fisheries & Bottled
- Our location: Time zone, Hub
- Our infra: Southern Cross Cable, Ports
- Our demographic: esp relative to A&NZ

Monetize what we're good at and what we love doing

Implications on Education

65% of children entering primary school today will ultimately end up working in completely new job types that don't yet exist.

WFP's Future of Jobs Report

At the same time, tech kill some (a lot of)

Category	Value
...	...
...	...
...	...

Three Examples of Looking In & Out to Grow

Hedging Tourism

Retirement Villages

Rugby

